DESCRIPTION

A very sweet strain that is almost a pure Indica. The effects of Bubba Kush are intense and physical, leaving a strong relaxation in your body. Short stature, wide leaves, it is the typical Indica with short internodes, strong sweet taste, and relaxing effect.

Bubba's stocky plant stature and bulky bud structure suggest Afghani descent, but its genetic origins aren't certain. The breeder whom this strain was named after (disputed) states that Bubba Kush emerged just after 1996, when an OG Kush hybrid pollinated an unknown indica strain obtained in New Orleans. The mother plant was supposedly Northern Lights, but the genetically ambiguous indica was simply called "Bubba." Bubba Kush has flourished from its California roots ever since.

PARENT #1: Northern Lights

Hybrid

Breeder: Sensi Seeds

Lineage: Afghani x Thai

Northern Lights stands among the most famous strains of all time, a pure indica cherished for its resinous buds, fast flowering, and resilience during growth. Itself a descendant of indigenous Afghani and Thai landrace strains, Northern Lights has given rise to famous hybrids like Shiva Skunk and Super Silver Haze. Rumor has it that Northern Lights first sprouted near Seattle, Washington, but was propagated out of Holland after 1985 at what is now Sensi Seeds.

PARENT #2: Triangle Kush

Indica-Dominant

Breeder: Origins_TK_OG & Cornbreak Ricky

Lineage: Emerald Triangle x Hindu Kush

A truly classic cannabis strain that has just as much staying power now that it did when it was accidentally bred into existence in Boca Raton, FL and grown for the first time in Orlando, FL. Triangle Kush takes its name from a strain known as Emerald Triangle crossed with the pollen of a Hindu Kush male.
