TASTE/SCENT

LEMON CITRUS SWEET TANGY

DESCRIPTION

Headband is a cross between the famed OG Kush and Sour Diesel cannabis strains. The smooth, creamy vapor is accented by flavors of lemons and diesel while the long-lasting effects may be great for pain relief and reducing anxiety. Many report that the effects create a slight pressure around the crown of their head and feels as though they are wearing a headband. The effects have been known to come on slow, so pace yourself with this potent hybrid.

PARENT #1: SOUR DIESEL

Sativa-Dominant Hybrid

Breeder: Unknown/Disputed

Lineage: Original Diesel x DNL

The origins and lineage of Sour Diesel are disputed within the cannabis community. Sour Diesel is a sativa strain. These flowers smell like skunk with undertones of pine and citrus. The smoke/vapor is smooth with a slightly diesel, hash-like taste.

PARENT #2: OG KUSH

Indica-Dominant Hybrid

Breeder: Unknown/Disputed

Lineage: Chemdog

OG Kush makes up the genetic backbone of West Coast cannabis varieties, but in spite of its ubiquity, its genetic origins remain a mystery. This famed strain arrived in Los Angeles in 1995 after being transplanted coast-to-coast from Florida by its original propagators.
